

Dr Cheng Li Chang

Specialty

- Obstetrics & Gynaecology

Qualifications

- Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery, National University of Singapore
- Member of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists of London, UK
- Fellow of the Academy of Medicine of Singapore
- Fellow of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists of London, UK

Languages Spoken

- English

Background

- Dr Cheng Li Chang is an obstetrician and gynaecologist with a focus in assisted reproductive technology (ART). He is an accredited fertility specialist and performs in vitro fertilisation (IVF) procedures at the Mount Elizabeth Fertility Centre at Mount Elizabeth Hospital, Singapore.
- Dr Cheng is IVF-certified by the Assisted Conception Unit at King's College Hospital and licensed for ART by the Ministry of Health, Singapore.
- Dr Cheng graduated from National University of Singapore and worked as a house officer at KK Hospital under the specialty of obstetrics and gynaecology and at Tan Tock Seng Hospital under the specialty of general surgery and internal medicine.
- After obtaining the membership from the Royal College of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Dr Cheng went on to become the registrar at KK Hospital and lecturer at King's College Hospital, Academic Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology.
- Dr Cheng is actively involved in research with multiple papers published and presentation of many scientific papers at conferences, seminars and symposiums locally and overseas. He was also the winner of the Merck-Serono Young Investigator's Award in 2008 with the presentation on The Eradication of OHSS.